Democratic, Right or Wrong.

LONG AGO.

Oh! a wonderful stream is the river of Time
As it runs through the realms of years,
With a faultless rhythm and a musical cadence
And a broadening sweep and a surge sublime,
As it blends with the ocean of tears.
How the winters are drifting like flakes of snow.

And the summers like birds in twain,
With the year in the sun—so they come
and go,
On the river's breast, with its ebb and flow,
As it glides through the shadow and sheen,
There's a magical is-le on the river of Time,
Where the softest airs are playing;
There's a cloudless sky and a tropical clime,
And a song as sweet as a vesper chime,
And the June with the roses staying.

And the name of that isle is the "Lang Azer,"
And we bury our treasures there;
There are bowers of beauty and blossoms of
snow;
There are heaps of dust—we loved them
so—
There are dresses and trinkets of hair,
There are fragments of songs that nobly sing,
And a part of an infant's prayer;
There's a sword and a harp without a name.

There are broken vows and pieces of rings,
And the garments she used to wear.
There are hands that are wayed from the fairly shore,
Where the midwife is lying in air;
And we come from men through the thrilling door,
Sworn to be married in the days gone
before,
When the wind down the river was fair,
Oh! remembered for aye be the blessed

A BENTONITE WISELY CAUT.
A NEW Practical Suggestions.

It having been suggested that a whisky fair should be held at Cynthiana (Ky.) by the Bourbon whisky-makers of Kentucky, the Cynthiana Democrat, "The Organ of the Bourbon Whisky Trade," says "this is a move in the right direction," and Cynthiana "the right place." We cordially agree with our Kentucky contemporary in its assertion that the "Maiden City" is the "right place." If there is a spot on God's green earth where whisky is My Lord Paramount, Cynthiaia, Ky., is that spot. We heartily endorse the selection of that city for the purpose of a whisky feting. We should like to attend the fair. We should like to take the judges by the arms, and with a hot, hot, hot whisky drink at the end of

First we would lead them to the crest of the hill east of town, and pointing to a low dark ravine, south of the Augusta road, and on the old fish farms, and tell them the story of the hanging of poor Dave Shealy, who murdered his wife while drunk. And then we would propose a toast: "Here's to the repose of Dave's soul," and drink it in the same liquor that led him through the red valley of murder to the gall bet, death and hell!

Then we would turn northward, until we stood on the summit of Fra-zier's hall, and, parting the weeds in a sinkhole, point to the stump of the gallows whereon young Tom Shannon was sacrificed for the murder of John Devine. We would also propose—in the same liquor that placed the halter about Tom's neck—a toast to his lost soul!

Then turning to the south, traversing Mam street, we would lead them up Magee's Hill, and pointing out to the west, across Jo. Desha's farm, until their eyes rested on a spot on the Georgetown pike, about three hundred yards beyond where Gray's Run crosses the latter thoroughfare, and we would tell the story of Endicott, who was hanged there for murdering his step-father, an old man while under the influence of the Shakespeare has drawn a Shallow a Slender, and a Silence—he has portrayed the nearest approach to meretriciousness, but he draws with loving touch and delights to show a soul goodness in things evil. But even that universal genius, in whose vast mind was set all that God ever vouchsafed, never conceived of a scoundrel. His generous nature feeling "how fearful and how dignified to cast on eyes so low," recoiled from looking into the fouler depths of human debasement. This was reserved for fiercer and meaner spirit who gave us the first preliminary sketch and faint suggestion of the coming monster; for the scalawag is the bright consummate flower of which the Yahoo is the modest bud.

Let us hope that even he is not altogether without some aspiration

ed. It really seems that he, too, has his ideal. His notion of human perfection—his ideal of unfallen Adam walking around the bowers of Paradise is carpet-bagger. "But what

THE WANDERING JEW.—Tradition hands down to us through the hand of fiction the beautiful and thrilling legend of the Wandering Jew. The enough wanderer is represented as travelling incessantly through the world without rest or aim; and it is said that once a century he meets the wandering Jewess—Herodias, a Berber's daughter, who on the Asiatic shore, and he on the American. They see each other in a kneeling position—and only through the agency of the Aurora, which as it were, brings their face to face. After the Aurora vanishes, the wanderers are separated.

to meet no more for ages. The Aurora was visible but a few weeks ago in the north—and an old aged grey-haired man, with elastic yet mournful step; clad in white habiliments; wearing a blue blouse and bare head ed, appeared in the streets of our city week last. No one knew his story, nor does he tell it to any one. Can it be that we are to see the unfortunate arizon of Jerusalem in our midst?

A PRETTY WOMAN.—A pretty woman is one of the institutions of the country—an angel in muslin and glory. She makes sunshine, happiness, and blue sky wherever she goes.

Her path is one of delicious rose perfumes and beauty. She is a sweet poem, written in rare colors and choice silk, and principles. Make stand up before her as so many a mutation, mine. Her words are around the ear like music, birds of paradise or the perfume of sabbath bells, without her society would lose its truest attractions, the church its firmest reliance, the young men their very best companions. How fluence and generosity restrain the vicious, strengthens the faint-hearted. Wherever you find the virtuous woman you also find fireside bouquet, clean clothes, order, good living.

LAWYERS IN CONGRESS.—Out of sixty-six Senators whose occupation are stated in the Congressional directory, forty-five are lawyers, live merchants, five editors, four farmers or planters, three bankers, two teachers, one a manufacturer and one a railroad owner. Quite a proportion ance of the disciples of Coke. The House is not quite as strong in the element; but there are mentioned lawyers one hundred and nineteen, merchants nineteen, editors sixteen.

LOCAL MATTER.

James Cleveland called to see us last week.

FINE LONG WOOL.—Last week we were shown by Mr. J. H. Gray, of this county, a fine specimen of this year's clip of combing wool—it is as fine as Cashmere wool, and as clean as if it had been worked. The buck from which the wool was taken sheared 15 pounds after he had been heavily trimmed—and this too from a yearling. Mr. Gray will have 500 pounds of wool.

"Barrett's" Wonderful Hair Restorative.

TOM GRAY'S BALD EAGLE.—At the Harrison Hotel Bar-room can be seen one of the largest Bald Eagles ever caught in this or any other country on the face of the earth. This Eagle is so large, and so wide from tip to tip, that if we were to give a statement in figures of his size, our readers would discredit us, and would say that we had fabricated. He is called "Tommy" for short, in one respect, and in another in honor of all the "Thomas Hawks," in the United States. No charge is made for showing this Eagle.

On Saturday the 22d of this month a Temperance Picnic will take place at or near Millersburg, Bour county, when Septimus Wall, Esq., the leader of the Temperance move in Kentucky, Col. W. P. C. Brockridge, Robt. Williams, of Paris, and many other noted Temperance men will speak. The people in and about Millersburg are clever and hospitable, and will leave nothing undone which will tend to make this an agreeable meeting to those who may favor them with a visit. Everybody is invited.

Picking up small things that can be carried off easily, especially so when those things don't belong to the individual, has become rather too common in Cynthiana. A white boy carried off a basket the other day from a grocery, which he knew did not belong to him, and we have been requested to say that unless he returns it inside of a week, that he will be prosecuted for stealing.

Our enterprising young friend W. T. Turner, of this county, sold his splendid barrel colt last week, for $100, to Messrs. Curran & Redmon.

Robt. Scott, Esq., of this county, disposed of a number one pair of fat steers to Green and Ashbrook recently, which weighed 1089 lbs. at 8 cents per pound.

No SMALL POX.—As many people took great pains to circulate the fact that the town of Cynthiana was afflicted with small pox, and made more hue and cry about it than was necessary; we desire now that they should make themselves just as busy in reporting that no small pox exists here. We are free from it at last. In fact none but colored people had it from the beginning to the end. Cynthiana is itself again.

Last week Cynthiana was filled with more excitement than usual on the "Liniment question." A large man with a short mustache, had a "scare all" that could beat the world, and a small man had "McBride's King of Pain," and Dr. Douglass had on hand his stock in trade, and the excitement grew stronger and stronger, until it was believed by all strangers, as they came in town, that we had a circus—and it did not subside until the setting of the sun,—which proves that the charlatan has become an institution of the country.

The Kentucky Central Railroad are putting up a How Truss Bridge, over Townsend, which will make that crossing perfectly safe.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of the Harrison Hotel, in another column. It is now a good hotel, and the landlord, Mr. St. Clair, can keep hotel.

Cyrus B. Cook's large flouring mill, is rapidly approaching completion, and when finished will be one of the finest and most complete establishments ever erected in Kentucky. It reflects great credit upon Mr. C.

Call for "Barrett's" and take no other.

To-night a splendid show will come off at Reneker's Hall. Every body should go.

Howard and Bowen started their distillery last Wednesday week. It is situated near Ruddle's Mills; and they made on their first mash 21 gallons to the bushel. The whiskey is said to be an excellent article.

T. R. Rankin, Esq., of this county sold his celebrated mocking bird "Pete Everett," to John Banks, of this city, for the sum of $25. That is rather a fowl?

A young lad 3 years of age—a very promising boy—son of E. B. Durant, fell into a tub of hot water last Saturday and was so badly scalded that he died. Mr. Durant is a son-in-law of Andrew Boyd, Esq., of Boyd Station.

A. D. Bales was re-elected in the Clayville precinct last Saturday, for the office of Constable. We have known Mr. B. for a number of years, and have always found him an honest, energetic and worthy man.

The Distilleries of Wm. Conner & Co., Gray & Craig, and John G. Redmon, have shut up shop. The large Distilleries of B. K. Reynolds & Co., and C. B. Cook, will shut up shop next week.

High wines have advanced about 5 per cent within the last week, and our whiskeys have an upward tendency.

We condemn negro testimony to-day as heartily as we did one year ago; and we have heard no good reason why we should change. It is a free-nigger, Black Republican cry, and the Rads would like to force the Democracy into an acceptance of their ideas. It won't go down.

We were pleased to meet our handsome young friend William H. Woodford, formerly of Covington, but now of Owensboro, where he and his brother John are doing business.

Dr. Blades was in Cynthiana last week.

Mr. John Collins sold his black, smooth, shag, situated near the bridge, on main street, last week to William Flowers, for $1650. A cheap bargain.

A difficulty occurred at Kame's Still House, in Grant county, a few days since, in which W. T. Webster was killed by Kame's, by a lick on the head with a billet of wood.

Dr. Madison, proprietor of the Planter's Hotel, Covington, called to see us. The Doctor says he is keeping a good hotel, and we believe him.

Turnpikes are all the go in and around Cynthiana just now. The Comersville, the Bagena Vista, and the Lark Station pikes will be laid this summer; and one to the Fair grounds.

Obbville, May 10, 1869.

If Dr. N. C. Dille will permit his name to be used before the Democratic Convention as a candidate for a seat in the Lower House of our State Legislature, he will receive the support of his old neighbors, and

MANY FRIENDS.

Col. Craddock, of the True Kentuckian, has been called upon to permit his name to go before the county convention of Bourbon, as a candidate for the Legislature. He is qualified and worthy, and it would benefit him and his county to represent her. We notice that the Colonel in his card has left the matter in the hands of his friends. We hope to see the delegation from Centerville instructed for him.

Politics in this county had some attention last Monday. We met Mr. D. Martin, and he remarked that he was in the hands of the people and would abide their decision—and if they desired would represent them again. We have not received answers from the other gentlemen.

As New Buildings are going up and men desire to have good fire proof roofs, we would direct their attention particularly to the advertisement of Caldwell & Co., No. 133 West 2nd st., Cincinnati, Ohio, who has for sale the "Outcall's Elastic Joint Iron Roofing," for sale. It is said to be cheaper and more endurable than any other. We expect to see this roofing soon.

Last Monday, a respectable citizen of Grant county named Boyers, dropped dead in the streets of Williamsown.

Our friend Hargis of the "Carlisle Mercury," is making a move to get a thoroughgoing qualified Democrat on the track for the Legislature from Robertson and Nicholas. We know the Captain is sound, and will offer no proposition which will not have the right ring to it.

Mr. Adam Reneker has fitted up "Reneker Hall," in fine style, and can accommodate any number of traveling or local managers, with a place to exhibit. Prices nominal.

"Barrett's" makes the head feel fine.

Week before last we heard a very interesting lecture from Mr. Abney, (late of Cincinnati), but formerly of South Carolina), on the personality of Jesus Christ, one of the twelve Apostles of Christ. The ideas advanced were new and curious. Much was said of the early history of Mr. Isearot, which was not generally known, except to those who have made Theology a study, and the peculiar defence which Mr. Abney set up for him, as being respectable and respected as any other of the Apostles, indicated a boldness of thought and originality, not found with young men everywhere. It was worth hearing.

On the First Sunday in this month Elder Samuel Rogers preached his farewell sermon. He goes to Missouri to spend the summer. We hope he may find all things agreeable.

A little girl and boy were bit ten by a mad dog in Covington last Monday. We see no muzzles on the town dogs yet.

At the sale made by All Day last week 115 acres of his land was sold for $75 per acre; 60 acres for $65; and 40 acres for $45 per acre. A fine black mare was sold for $510. E. D. Cason was the purchaser of the land and mare.

Henry Williams is building a new front to his residence the Millersburg pike.

R. T. Wherritt has nearly finished his new residence on Pleasant street.

Theology use "Barrett's."

May 11, 1869.
Messrs. A. J. Moore & Co. in response to the call on the 10th inst. to become a candidate for the Legislature for this county, I have to say as I have no objection to being named, and as they were urging me to be a candidate that my health was not good, and my private affairs require my attention, I supposed that I had said to them so many words, and as I had said without a response in your paper, but I must decline to be named by my neighbors and friends of the county, and regret very much that I cannot accept of their wishes. I am now as I have been a State Elector. I am very respectfully your friend, and well wisher.

R. T. BOSWELL.

Religious Notices.

On next Sunday at 10 o'clock, A. M., I will preach on the subject of infant salvation, and will show that all dying in infancy are saved without baptism.

AT PRIVATE SALE.

AN ELEGANT

Suburban Residence,

With Spacious Grounds,

Fine Vinyard, Garden, &c.,

ATTACHED.

My business affairs compelling me to go to Europe, I offer for sale my residence on the Georgetown pike, in Harrison county, a substantial two-story brick, with eight rooms, porch and cool dry cellar. A No. 1 beer-house, stable, buggy shed, and all necessary outbuildings on the premises; also, a large cistern and a splendid never-failing spring of excellent water. The grounds contain about

TEN ACRES;

Six acres in a valuable young vineyard, containing 10,000 vines of choice grapes yielding abundantly; the rest in pasture, yard and garden. The latter now planted. Also, a fine young peach orchard of 250 trees, which will bear this year; apples, pears, and other fruit. All is enclosed with good fences, and everything about the place is in excellent repair. The whole is under the highest cultivation, almost every foot of ground being occupied with something useful or ornamental.

The neighborhood is very desirable, the location admirable and scenery fine. It is an opportunity for a safe and profitable investment, whether for use or speculation. It can easily be cut up into two lots, and adjoining lots have brought high prices. The vineyard alone will, with proper attention, yield the purchaser a comfortable income. Nothing but the absolute necessity of changing my personal residence in Europe would induce me to part with it. Terms reasonable.

I will be pleased to show the premises to any one wishing to examine them.
